Clay: Any clay can be used to practice the techniques presented in this course. Below are several options that our school recommend. If you have access or will have access to a kiln that can fire to “Cone 6” we recommend purchasing one of the stoneware clays. If you do not have access to a kiln, and don’t expect to have access to a a kiln in the future, we recommend that you practice at home using one of the airdry clays.

Recommended Clay:

- Cone 6 Stoneware
 - Best Mix, Mid-Fire Cone 5-7, Rocky Mountain Clay

- Amaco Velvet Under Glazes: We recommend buying an assortment of colors that you find appealing. These underglazes can become expensive, so if you are new to using this material, we recommend buying the 2oz containers (approx. $5.00 each) so that you can try out the material without making a substantial financial commitment.
